

Islip, NY – Islip Town Councilman Gene Parrington recently visited the Town’s Compost Facility to assess the amount of material at the site as a result of the clean-up from Hurricane Irene.

“This site has seen over seventy-seven hundred tons of yard waste enter through its gates in the past two weeks,” said Councilman Parrington. “This is the only municipal composting site of its size on Long Island, and Islip is fortunate to have it.”

Pictured with Councilman Parrington are Nick Masi Jr. of Ronkonkoma, and his son, Nick Masi III.